The Daily Standard. Monday, December 4, 1871. The Next General Election.

The Dondon Free Press has been calcalating on the results of the next general election for the House of Commons Not having a copy of its issue in which the original calculation appeared, we are indebted to the Toronto Globe for the annexed review. It will be understood that the Free Press is a Ministerialist organ; and has doubtless endeavored to make out the Ministerialist majority to be as large as possible. Our readers therefore who are anxious to get only facts on the subject will have to take the figures of the Press and the comments thereon of the Globe for what they are worth. Here is the summary :

"British Columbia and Manitoba it will aweep to a man. Such a thing as an opposent to the Government will not be found from Vancouver Island to the head waters of Lake Superior. All, it seems, in those regions have too lively a sense or obligation to Cartier, Archibald, &c., to save a single word against them or their say a single word against them or their course of action. They know better. Then, coming to the other side of the Continent and Dominion, nearly the same tale has to be told. Nova Scotia may muster five Opposition, not more; while trusty 14 or 15 stand by their friende at Ottawa. New Brunswick will give 3 to the "outs," and a noble army of 11 to the "ins." In Quebec, according to the calculator we at present fol low, the power of the Ministerial band is to be overwhelming, and with them will at PIPER'S? And would it further surprise to be overwhelming, and with them will remain power and its spoils, let Ontario de as it like. Instead of "French dominion" being at an end, when confederation, was secured, it only came then into full place and power. Out of sixty-five members from that province, 48 at the very least will go with the Ministry. Out of these five provinces, then, we shall have 82 Ministerialists and 25 Opposition. Taking the most favourable resistance of the most favourable resistance of the most favourable resistance of the sade to be nade to be not to be nade to be nade to be not to be nade to be not to be not to be nade to be not to position, taking the most favourable view possible. What can Onfario do against that? Nothing at all. At the very utmost the Liberals will not secure more than the half of her members. That half is put, but by a slip no doubt, of the pen, at 35—making the whole representation to be only 70. We presume that 90 is meant. That wes understood to be M. Langevin's estimate Lochnagar Whiskey, be entitled to as the result of the 1871 census, although, at the anticipated rate of the increase of her population, as compared with Quebec, Ontario would have been entitled to at least 12 new members. or a total of 94. A representation of 90 would yield 45 to each party, and consecounts for apthing in the contest. This, spos whole, would make the members in the new re-adjustment 127 to 71, or a good clear working majority of from FOR SALE BY THE UNDERSIGNED IN CASES and quarter Coaks.

Local Patronage.

The new Ministry seems determined to use its power to the fullest extent to bolster up its position. Although it is FOR SALE BY THE UNDERSIGHED, IN CASES to-day, so far as we know, in a minority in the Assembly, and apparently has no other fate before it but defeat on the first fair trial of strength, still it has undertaken to give away offices of emolument on its own responsibility, presuming that the country will sanction it. We presame that the main object is to reward its supporters now, in expectation that after the Assembly shall have met, it will have no chance to do it. Take, for instance, the offer of the office of Regis-trar General of Titles to Mr. Jackson, then to Mr. Aikman of the same firm. Here is an office that nutoriously only provides on the average an hour's work a day, yet there is a salary connected with it of $2,000 or $2,500 per year.

Recently, during the time that Mr.

Alston was the incumbent, he could act as Superintendent of Schools and wander around the country; and could serve on the Commission as codifier of the laws, and yet have only nominal duties to perferen. As soon as Mr. Alston was made Attorney General, the duties of the Registrar General's office were performed by his clerk, Mr. Mason. Now, however, our new Ministerial broom has made a clean sweep of the dual duties of that officer and appointed somehody also. that officer and appointed somebody else.

Let the Assembly, then, hold the Ministry to a strict accountability for the appointment,—more particularly as it is only about two years ago when the ier asserted that the duties were a mere nothing, and could be performed by a lawyer's clerk. What a change between being in and out of office. But let the Liberal party enquire into it.

Arrival of H. M. S. Sparrowhawk

He left the Forks of Skeens about three weeks since, and came down the river in a den as steersman. The river was then open. Three and a half days were taken in coming for to Woodcock's, where they remained for ten days, when the party started in a cance to Tabgate, called at Metlakahila, and from there went to Fort Simpson, at which place they arrived on Sunday, the 19th November. They were well received and every compute provided them by Mr. Morrison in the Hudson Bay Co.'s fors. On the following day, visited the Indian rancherie and witnessed a whisty noticeth. On the following day, visited the Indian rancherie and witnessed a whisky potlatch. On the Thursday blewing, H. M. S. Sparrowsawk arrived from Metlakahtla. Capt. Mist, with a small party of marines, blurjackets, Mr. Baturday morning, the former with coal for Duncan and some native policemen, landed to arrest an Indian, the murderer of the Indian doctor of the village. The Indians turned enters masses on the defensive, and a reinforcement had as he sent for from the property of the murderer and chosin. Divine service is beld at same place They captured the murderer and sock him on board the vessel, and also prested a number of the Indians who were drunk and abusive. The following morning the force again landed and seized a large quantity of laptor that was in the possession of the Indians. Next day, the prisoners for the minar affences were tried on board, be-fore Capt. Mist and Mr. Duncan, and subenness and giving whisky to their tilicums. Several of the prisoners were detained on board for was paying their fines, they stating they would prefer to be sent to Victoria for trial is preference to paying the fines to Mr. Duncan. The ship then proceeded to Metla-kahtla, where the whole of the prisoners, with the exception of the one for murder with the exception of the one for murder landed. (who was brought to Victoria), were landed. Mr. W. Farron, of the Forks of Skeena was met with a dispatch from Mr. O'Reilly, for Capt. Lewis, of the Otter. He (Mr. Farron) also had passage in the Sparrowhawk on her homeward trip On the first two days of the voyage fine weather, with fair winds, was experienced; since which had heavy head gales, rain and snow. The Otter was passed, bound up, two days' sail from Victoria. Some 200 to 240 men are at Port Essington, and at Woodcock's, awaiting her arrival to come down. Mr. O'Reilly had been inspecting the trail from Mansen creek to Fort James, and settling with the workmen. He had written to Capt. Lewis, that he expected to arrive at the mouth of Skeens about the 1st of Decem-of last week a note signed "Subscriber," touching the election of Mr. John Jessop for Vancouver District. Now I think "Subscriber' must be crammed, and not posted, as he terms it, when he asserts that Mr. Jessop has a majority of pledged votes from Sooke to Comox, and vice versa. As a resident of the said Vancouver District, and, consequently, possessed of some knowledge of the political 'situation," I augur that the whole party to which Mr. Jessop belongs, if combined, will not muster a hundred votes on the day of election. The electors do not require to be "dictated" to; the appositeness of Mr. Jes-sop they have already decided upon, i. e., he is fit to stay at home. Three Hundred Mormon Emigrants fom Burope? - (19) M

From the New York Herein, Nov. M.
The steamer Nevada landed on Wednesday about 300 Mormons en route to Utab, chiefly from England and Scandinavia. They had a stormy passage of fourteen days, but they came in bealthy and looked well. The agent who attends to the interests of the saints, Mr. Staines, says this company has a much larger number of children than he ever saw come in one company, and altogether the new accessions to Brigham's kingdom were a very fine lot of

The emigrants will leave this evening by the Pennsylvania and Fort Wayne route, and by the Chicago and Northwestern to Omaha, all the way by express train, and will reach Utah in eight days. When they leave here they take with them two days' bread and and other food, and on their arrival at Chica- Williams, E G go and Umaha some one comes down to the stations with a thousand loaves and a supply of Cheese, ham and other fixings, so that th emigrants suffer no inconvenience for food by the way, and are nevre exposed to be taken in as strangers. The agent here does all their business for them, changes their money into greenbacks and sends them off under the charge of some of the Eiders, who look after their welfare all the way to Salt Lake City, where they are then taken in charge by "the Bishop of all the Bishops," and scattered over the territory as circumstances may demand.

NOTHER FAST HEAT—THIRD MILE IN 2:181 "Goldsmith Maid" has again made a mile so fast as to provoke comment this time, however, it was over Suffolk Park, Philadelphia, in the presence of 5,000 people, with the track undoubtedly of the right length, as will be seen below. From the Philadelphia Press of November 3rd we take the following :
The "Maid" had won two heats, making the second in 2:19%, audidst enthusiastic applause. When they started for the third heat, the "Maid," as usual, had the pole. At the start "Lucy" had a slight advantage, and held it until the quarter-pole was reached, when the "Maid" pressed rapidly forward and quarter-pole was reached, when the "Maid" pressed rapidly forward and endeavored to pass, and finally succeeded when near the half-mile pole, where she forged rapidly ahead, leaving her rival four leng he in the rear. This did not suit Hickok, mho pushed his animal and vainly endeavored to reach the wheels of Dibles town hat in the rear. The "Maid" Doble's team, but in vain, The "Maid" was doing her best, and sped round the course toward the score with the speed of a whirlwind. It was noticed that Doble intended to make a record. He leaned forward, spoke gently to his pet and kindly urged her on. The flying beauty was a study for an artist; with glistening eyes dilated and nostrils in full play, and an occasional toes of the head, as if nodding a recognition of the smiles and applause bestowed on her, she approached and crossed the score ten engths ahead of "Lucy" and in the STOVE FITTINGS. unprecedented time of 2:181. beating "Dexter's" time made on the same course, by three-quarters of a minute.
